

Faith & the Common Good

Seeking Common Ground for the Common Good

Job Posting: Community Animator (Toronto area)

Faith & the Common Good is a national non-profit organization that facilitates inter-faith dialogue and action on matters of social and ecological concern. Our main program, Greening Sacred Spaces (GSS), promotes eco-sustainability in faith communities (churches, mosques, synagogues, temples, etc.), focusing primarily on energy conservation within faith buildings. We are looking for half-time staff (approximately 75 hours/month) to liaise with green activists within faith communities to assist them in participating in GSS.

QUALIFICATIONS AND EXPERIENCE

- Experience working with faith communities
- Knowledge and understanding of environmental issues and eco-sustainable solutions
- Experience with networking
- Experience with working with volunteers
- Experience and comfort speaking in front of groups
- Must be creative, energetic, flexible, motivated, and well-organized

DUTIES

- Conduct all activities in accordance with the ecological and spiritual mission of Faith & the Common Good
- Plan and coordinate the 'Greening Sacred Spaces' program in the local area
- Identify and liaise with representatives from each faith community and report on activities
- Plan and participate in GSS networking events
- Animate interest in the campaign among faith communities and other groups
- Track local environmental resources and liaise with community and environmental groups for opportunities to collaborate.
- Liaise with other environmental groups regional networks.

COMPENSATION

$1500 per month on a contract basis.

APPLICATION PROCESS

We encourage applications from minority cultures and faith traditions.

Send résumé and cover letter to kinrig@faith-commongood.net